

To whom it may concern:

The use of cell phones is unnecessary. The safety in the cabin would be compromised. It is hard enough now to get passengers to listen to the crew. Add the cell phone factor. It would be awful.

The constant chatter would be annoying to everyone. We have all heard how loud everyone talks when they are on their phones. Do not pass this. Why make the airplane an even harder place to be.